White-nose Syndrome & Cave Tours

All Caves are closed except for park-led tours of Cascade, Saltpetre, and X-Caves until further notice. White-nose Syndrome (WNS) is a disease that is killing 70-100% of hibernating bats in infected caves. WNS does not have any effect on humans, livestock or pets, only hibernating bats. WNS was found February 2013 in some of the parks caves. Therefore, Carter Caves State Resort Park, like many other commercial caves and parks are requiring all cave tour visitors to go through a decontamination station upon exit of the cave tours. These measures could help slow down the spread of White-nose Syndrome into unaffected caves in other states.

HOW YOU CAN HELP

Do not wear shoes, clothing, or carry objects that you had on a cave tour at Carter Caves into another cave system outside of Carter Caves area. This will possibly prevent any unintentional spread of the disease to unaffected areas.

PROHIBITED ON CAVE TOURS

Because of the possibility of White-nose Syndrome contamination, the following are prohibited on cave tours:

- Camera bags, tripods, strollers, backpacks, luggage, etc.
- Pets
- BAGS of any type, including purses, fanny packs, diaper bags, camera cases, etc. Bags containing necessary medical supplies are permitted.
- Sandals/flip-flops, etc. Please wear appropriate shoes that cover the entire foot for safety.

REQUIRED PARTICIPANT DECONTAMINATION PROTOCOL

All cave touring participants at Carter Caves State Resort Park will be required to walk on bio-mats after exiting the cave tour. This process will require each individual to walk across the length of an outdoor carpet and across a bio mat containing water and Lysol IC mixture. This process has been proven to help prevent the spread of spores. This process will assist bat ecologists and will be a precaution to what WE CAN DO for the betterment of bat species. Thank you for your assistance with these procedures.

NOTE: Please review these procedures before you purchase any cave tour tickets as refunds cannot be issued at the Welcome Center.
